

BDO NI and Queen's Management School

Business Insight Programme 2023

Are you in Lower 6th and considering a career in business?

Have you thought about a career in accounting, consulting or business advisory?

Want to develop your team work and critical thinking skills?

Want to add invaluable real life insights and examples to your CV, UCAS or personal statement?

If you answered yes to any of the questions above and are in Lower 6th, we want to hear from you!

Leading accountancy and business advisory firm, BDO Northern Ireland, in conjunction with Queen's Management School, are hosting a new and exciting 3 day Business Insight Programme for Lower 6th pupils who, at this stage, are considering taking on an accounting undergraduate degree or any course offered by Queen's Management School.

Focusing on teamwork, critical thinking, analytical skills and communication skills, this insights programme will provide hands on experience that will be invaluable to anyone entering the workplace in a matter of years.

Throughout the 3 day programme, taking place between 14-16 June 2023, you will get first hand experience of what being an accountant and an advisor to a business really means.

Applying to the Business Insight Programme:

This programme is all about developing your potential and helping you to become the best you can be.

Therefore our selection process is not only about academic performance. On your application we would like to hear about all of your achievements, for example working part-time, volunteering, sports and other interests. All activities that help you build your skills for a future career in business.

You are invited to apply if you are in Year 13 and completing a minimum of 3 A-Levels/Five Highers or equivalent.

To apply, complete the below application form and send either via your career's teacher or directly to: lisa.mcaleer@bdoni.com

Remember, this is a unique opportunity so places are limited!

The closing date for applications is 16th March 2023.
